PONIES IN THE PADDOCKS

© 2009 Everytking Equine

The objective of the game is to make more paddocks than your opponent. Take turns drawing a line between any two adjoining dots, horizontally or vertically. If there are three sides joined already, draw the fourth one to finish the paddock. Initial your pony and go again. The winner has the most ponies in their paddocks.

Is it okay to feed corn and wheat to horses?

How do you feel about feeding 50% sweet feed and 50% whole corn kernels off the cob? Where I live shelled corn is abundant and inexpensive; therefore I would like to add it to the sweet feed. I normally feed 5-6 pounds per horse in the cooler months and pasture the horse when the season allows. I don't want to colic the horses on the corn. Also, can I feed wheat since that is also readily available?

Whole corn is an acceptable feed for horses as long as it is not moldy and is introduced slowly. If a horse has dental problems they may not be able to chew it effectively. It is very energy dense. One pound of corn contains about 25% more calories than the average sweet feed, which also usually contains corn in addition to many other less energy dense ingredients. The amounts you are feeding should not be a problem if divided into two separate feedings. If you are group feeding the horses I would worry about individuals getting more than they should. They should also have hay if pasture is not available and free access to salt and water should always be provided.

Wheat is much less digestible and not very palatable to horses. It should be processed (flaked and/or steamed) to increase digestibility. I'd prefer corn to wheat. That being said, the concern regarding mold in corn is very serious - the type of mold that commonly affects corn can kill a horse. Make sure you get corn that is guaranteed not to be moldy. If the seller can not test it you should contact your local county Extension agent to see if they can help you get it tested.

Are oats good to feed to horses?

I have considered switching my horses from a typical sweet feed to straight oats. Is this okay to do? What would

© 2009 Everything Equine

I have to worry about, if anything?

Oats are the most common cereal grain fed to horses. They are higher in fiber than most grains and not too high in sugars and starches (this is the reason why grains and sweet feeds have gotten such a bad name recently). If fed with good quality grass hay they should meet all the requirements for a mature horse up to light work. However, if you have a horse that is intensely working you may need a vitamin/mineral supplement and possibly an added energy source (like corn oil or rice bran) if they start losing weight while in training. If you have a pregnant or growing horse they will need an additional vitamin/mineral supplement to balance everything out - especially the calcium and phosphorus. Also, they would need additional protein in this ration. A good way to add the protein is to add alfalfa of some sort (hay, cubes, pellets, etc.) to the diet. This will provide protein along with the extra calcium needed. Another good protein source is soybean meal.

Indian Horse "Running Deer"

by: Half Vast Connie Half Vast Acres

This poem is the story of a North Dakota Indian. Everyone called him "Horse"!

In hard times he had to sell his beloved mustang, I sadly say with remorse!

From the moment of birth, the foal to the Indian man had no fear!!!

The Indian christened the colt with an earth name of "Running Deer"!

"Horse" didn't even have to break him when the colt was old enough to ride...

The Indian and the Paint spoke a silent language. A whisper on the wind, I confide!

Once a semi truck honked and Running Deer spooked at the loud, frightful sound....

And sent the Indian, "Horse", with a thud, to the unforgiving ground.......

The mustang ran away to a little girl's house. She knew something was very wrong, of course!

Told her father, "Running Deer would never be here without, on his back, the Indian man, "Horse"!

The girl and the father drove down the roads in search and fear, no words did they talk!

They found the Indian Brave in a ditch, injured, and unable to walk!

For a while, the Indian spent his days getting around in an old wheel chair,

He knew when he recovered that his Running Deer at the corral would be waiting there!

But Nature, as you know, heals all wounds in time. She never fails!

And soon one could witness Running Deer and the Indian riding on ole dusty trails!!!!

Life passes quickly. Days and years soon pass like lightning in the sky!

Running Deer is now fifteen-his paint body gaunt and thin, I relate with a sigh!

The Indian, "Horse", is financially strapped from our poor economy.....

But he remembered earth saying, "If you love something you must set it free!

So his ad appears, "For only four hundred and fifty bucks you can buy a nice mustang paint!

Someone to love him FOREVER! A nice home a must or else going he "ain't"!

So Kathy bought him for this eight year old skinny little girl. Willow was her name!

And Running Deer bonded with Willow, as with "Horse". It was very much the same!!

There was a strange spirit about Running Deer as though he'd lived long ago in another time!

One day at a horse show Willow became quite ill and wasn't feeling so fine!

In the trailer, when he was loaded, he began to misbehave badly, jumping up and down....

They took him out. He put his head in truck's window til Willow had a smile and no frown!

One night as Kathy lay on her Serta mattress in peaceful sleep....

A ruckus at two in the morning woke her from dreams so deep!

With a flashlight and gun and a little anxiety, she entered into the dark with fright!

She discovered her niece and boyfriend on the road. Her niece had sneaked out in the night!

Running Deer was running wildly with thundering hooves. He knew something was amiss!

She grabbed her niece by the hand and said, "Your butt "goodbye" you can kiss!

Once an old lady with dementia ran away. Through the woods she would go-outcome family dread,

The mustang took Willow through orange grove only one mile to where she lay on ground dead!

Note: You are merely being selfish by "hanging on" when push comes to shove.....

You let a horse die from starvation shows you know nothing about love!

Now the moral of this poem—a moral to you from me......

IF YOU LOVE SOMETHING THEN YOU HAVE TO SET IT FREE!!!

Willow and Running Deer attend horse shows and the mustang has gained a lot of weight back-I would ask the Great Spirit to bless "Horse" for giving up his horse after 15 years. It must be a forever pain in his heart but doing the right thing is its own blessing. Maybe on the "Other Side" they'll both have "greener pastures"!

Where does Your Joint Supplement End Up?

Because of its large molecular size, the Chondroitin Sulfate found in most joint supplements is difficult for the body to absorb. More than 70% usually ends up in the manure! In addition, recent studies have shown that very little Glucosamine HCI — another ingredient commonly found in joint supplements — gets into the joint tissue. So, how effective is the joint supplement you're using?

Gluquestrian™ uses human-grade Glucosamine Sulphate 2KCI and Cardinal MSM. It has been proven that up to 98% of Glucosamine Sulphate is available to the joints within only 30 minutes! When used regularly, Gluquestrian™ is an extremely effective treatment for Navicular Syndrome, arthritis, spavin, laminitis, joint injuries and many other joint related problems. And Gluquestrian™ comes with a unique Results Based Guarantee, not just your usual money back guarantee that is only good for 30 days.

"May 2004 I was told by my farrier and vet that I needed to put my horse down and there were no other 'humane' options. My ... horse had foundered so badly that his coffin bone had rotated to 16°. Dee Matlock, of Singing Springs, told me ... that Gluquestrian was the best joint supplement on the market, and that if it wouldn't help nothing would. ... I tried it, and ... I saw results. It really worked! ... My horse is sound! I am riding him again! Now I'm adding the Total Mobility EQ for the contracted hoof." - Tammy Nute

Equine Dental Maintenance

by Wallace Ward

Mr. Ward has been practicing equine dentistry and providing educational clinics in the USA & Europe for 18 years.

He is now living and practicing in Florida. He uses hand tools verses power tools to shape and balance the teeth. By using a calm and gentle approach, Mr. Ward does not need to sedate the horses.

When You Train or Ride Your Horse Is He:

- ·resistant and tense in his neck and body?
- ·behind or above the vertical (the bit)?
- unwilling to bend to the left or right?
- •moving with short steps?
- •refusing/rushing fences?
- •jumping with his back hollow?
- heavy on left or right rein or pulls the reins through your hands?
- •does he flip or play with the bit?
- ·tossing his head?

Watch Your Horse Eat:

- ·Is he slow?
- . Does he wet his hay before he eats it?
- •Do you find his hay in his water bucket?
- •Does he take a mouthful of hay before going to his grain?
- •Does he refuse to eat hard food?
- Does he dive his head into the feed tub, or eat with his head up?

If a horse exhibits any of these symptoms he probably needs the attention of an equine dental technician before his behavior can be modified through training. Many horses are labeled difficult when they are simply trying to say that their mouths hurt.
