What do you suggest for raising orphan foals?

We recently started working with orphaned foals. I'm wondering if you have any information or anything of value you might send our way to aid in this endeavor? We are working with a local vet and would appreciate any thoughts you have.

Orphaned foals are a tremendous responsibility and usually incur a large financial and emotional undertaking.

In our Young Horse Teaching and Research Program, we work with weanlings that have had the benefit of four to five months with their mare mothers. We have reduced post-transport health problems to virtually zero by getting the foals used to us before they are weaned and giving them supplemental vitamin C (0.01 gm/kg of body weight) twice a day for 5 days after arrival. They are fed a pelleted ration formulated specifically for growth and good quality hay. These measures, other than the vitamin supplements, may not be an option with your foals.

If the foals were very young when orphaned and not able to get colostrum they will be susceptible to a wide variety of infectious diseases. Only with intensive and very expensive therapy (intravenous serum/fluids, antibiotics, etc.) will they survive, let alone thrive. Even if they do get colostrum, feeding neonates, as I'm sure you are aware, is not an easy proposition. They should get a formula designed specifically for foals at least every 2 hours during the first week (foals normally nurse 3-4 times an hour during the first week!), then at least 4 feedings a day for the next few months until they can be weaned onto a hay/pasture/grain formulated for growth. Goat's milk can be used, and in some cases a lactating dairy goat can be kept with the foal. Train the goat to stand on a platform so the foal can more easily nurse from her. Bear in mind that the risk of disease will still be great.

You'll also have to undertake the huge task of socialization. Orphan foals are notorious for having behavior problems. If not kept with other mature horses, they don't learn how to behave like a horse. They will consider humans to be their herd mates and treat them accordingly: biting, kicking, pushing, etc. It takes a lot of experience and some large measure of luck to develop them into a mature horse that knows how to behave properly, both around humans and other horses. Anyone who agrees to adopt or care for orphan foals must be carefully screened to insure that they have a lot of horse experience and that they fully understand what they are getting into.

Sharing Multi-Use Trails

From Katherine Blocksdorf

Safety and Courtesy on Multi-Use Trails

Many riders have access to the growing number of multi-use trails being established. State and provincial parks, private trails, and rail trails are ideal for horseback riding. Unfortunately, in some areas, horses are not welcome, largely due to misunderstanding between users. Courtesy and a little extra care can help leave a favorable impression of horseback riders. Here are a few ideas that can help keep all users safe and happy.

- Don't canter, lope or gallop unless you can see well ahead of you that the trail is clear of other users.
- Walk around corners, bends and across trail junctions.
- Walk single file past other trail users.
- Be aware of how repeated horse traffic can cause erosion over time. Spread out on hills instead of making a deep single track. Be aware of how hooves may damage surfaced trails. Ride slowly or move off to the side.

Always, whether on the trail or in the ring wear your helmet and safe footwear or use safety stirrups.

Ride a horse that is trail wise. Before heading out on trail make sure your horse is accustomed to pedestrians, bicycles, ATVs, dirt bikes and any other traffic you may encounter.

Take the initiative to move off the trail, especially for pedestrians. Many people are intimidated by horses.

Don't litter.

If your horse is startled by the sudden appearance of another trail user politely ask them to say hello so your horse can recognize them as another human.

Not everyone takes horse manure for granted like horse lovers do. If your horse drops manure on the trail, get off and clear it off the track. Trails in some areas have been closed to horses for fear of contamination. Once exposed to the sun, horse manure has little in it to contaminate ground water. Even if you fall face first in a fresh pile, it's unlikely you'd pick up any harmful bacterial. However, don't expect non-horse people to know that.

Clean up after your horse in the parking lot if you've trailered in. Don't leave manure, urine puddles, or old hay lying about. Bring a muck bucket and a manure fork to clean up with. Wash away urine with a few buckets of water.

Dirt bikes, ATVs and other motorized vehicles may be encountered on some multi-use trails. If you are riding in an area where you will meet these users try to stay out of their way. Better yet, try and establish an understanding between vehicle users and horseback riders so both can enjoy the trail safely. This might require a little more time on your part, but it will be worth it if unfortunate encounters or accidents can be avoided.

Always, always be polite, even if someone is impolite to you. Do everything you can to leave other users with a favorable impression of horseback riders.

Warmth of a Horse

When your day seems out of balance
And so many things go wrong.
When people fight around you,
And the day drags on so long...

When parents act like children
In-Laws make you think "Divorce,"
Go out into your pasture...
Wrap your arms around your horse.

His gentle breath enfolds you,
As he watches with those eyes...
He may not have a Ph.D.,
But he is oh, so wise!

His head rests on your shoulder
You embrace him good and tight;
He puts your world in balance,
And makes it seem all right.

Your tears will soon stop flowing,
The tension is now eased.
The garbage has been lifted
You'll be quiet and at peace.

So when you need the balance
From circumstances in your day
The best therapy you can seek-
Is out there chomping hay!

Ivory Pal Performs at Equifest 2007

By Gail Shrine

Ivory Pal, with doves flying over his head, delighted his fans at Equifest 2007! The event took place at the Lake Helen Equestrian Center, Lake Helen, FL, on April 14, 2007.

Horse Lovers and Equine Art enthusiasts drove from all over Florida and parts of Georgia to get a glimpse of the talented champion, Ivory Pal. Every fan left with a smile, as Ivory Pal bowed and waved to everyone as they approached his corral. Hundred's came by Ivory Pal's corral to visit; take pictures; get autographed photos and magazines; and get free Horseshine horse treats provided by Omega Fields.

Ivory Pal entertained his fans with a performance to the song "I Believe I Can Fly" by R. Kelly. Ivory Pal's performance to "I Believe I Can Fly" was ridden bit-less, bareback, and barefoot, and showcased his signature high level moves and gaits. Ivory Pal wowed the crowd throughout the performance and ended it with a huge and powerful (almost vertical) rear in perfect synchronization with the lyrics "... Fly, Fly, Fly ...", as white doves were released and flew over Ivory Pal, causing the crowd to gasp and erupt with cheering and applause. Ivory Pal also performed a moving patriotic grand finale paying tribute to our military troops, accompanied by Southern Pride Mounted Drill Team.

Denise Shirley, a gold sponsor and one of the coordinators for Equifest 2007, stated, "There is a pure joy and unabandoned love that is clearly expressed between Rafael Valle and his golden stallion, Ivory Pal. They are a visual and emotional delight. Having them at Equifest 2007 in Lake Helen was an honor for the Museum of Florida Art and its Equifest volunteers. They surprised and enthralled the crowd, and by the time both of their performances were complete, the fan club of Ivory Pal and his gracious rider grew in its size. The fact that Rafael makes both himself and Ivory Pal so accessible to their fans for autographs, chat, and photos makes their appearances that more unique. The Equifest team has already started planning its 2008 event which must, of course, include the crowd-pleasing Golden Pegasus, Ivory Pal."

All I Know I Learned from Horse! (well, Almost All...)

By Half Vast Connie

These bits of wisdom that I know
Came not from books, friends nor foe.
I relate this to you with some remorse,
Life lessons all I learned from horse

Don't "stampede" through life with out a plan,
and very seldom can you trust a man.
This lesson is my favorite one,
Every day a siesta from noon day sun.

If I ate his "snacks"- an apple a day,
No high figure would my body weigh.
A pecking order? Hmmm I don't know.
I'd be low man on the Totem pole.

Buck & Kick? It's OK if there is a need.
"Colic" if you consume all your feed.
"Backing up" is not horses cup of tea,
2 steps forward, 4 back, that's me!

"Step on toes" - those that invade your space.
When you get too hyper, a shot of "Ace".
Exercise a must so you will stay sound,
And what you send out comes back around.

Horse has taught me all I know about true love.
Take everything in stride and never shove.
Horse has taught me honesty 'cus that is their way.
And take time from work, take time to play.

In horse shows I learned about won and lose.
What friends to have, which ones to chose.
No sad sorrow if no blue ribbon came,
More important how you play the game.

And as I bring this poem to its end -
Sad news to you, I now must send.
One came not from horse book on shelf
"Hoof in mouth" disease I learned ALL BY MYSELF!

Horse tales is an area where original, unpublished works by local writers and artists will be featured. If you have a short story, poem, work of art or anything that you've created and are interested in seeing in print, please submit to Everything Equine. Everything Equine and local businesses provide this opportunity for children and adults alike to show their creative abilities and talents to the entire community. Please limit your submissions to horse related tales that coincide with an equestrian or farm oriented way of life.

Horseback Safaris

Horseback Safaris - Standard one-hour, two-hour, or three-hour horseback safaris are available daily. Horseback Safaris can be arranged for riders with varying levels of experience. All guests should be at least 12 years of age; 10 years of age is an acceptable age with proven riding experience. Guests weighing more than 275 pounds will need to be assessed by our Equestrian Director before they are allowed to take a Horseback Safari. Call-in reservations are recommended in order to assure that we and our horses are ready for you.

A favorite with visitors is our two-night "Crescent J Cattle Drive Weekend Safari," which includes some training in Florida Cowhunter skills of ridin', ropin' and cow cuttin'. (Florida cattlemen weren't "cowboys" because hunting those wild Spanish-descent cattle in Florida's woods and swamps was a man's job, they said.) Choice of campground depends on weather, type of group and recommendation of the riding instructors.

Another favorite is similar, but shorter – an Overnight Trail Ride Safari combined with a next-day "Rawhide Roundup." More time is spent riding the wilderness trails of Forever Florida and learning about nature, less on cowpoke skills.

Corporate Co-workers, Schoolteachers, Professional Club, Flying Clubs, School Groups, Church Groups, Families, Friends, Scout troops or multi-troop Camporees – there are activities and a campground on Forever Florida or the Crescent J Ranch that are just right for a bonding experience. See the Facilities and Events page for more details.

From a small primitive one-troop Scout Camp on the Crescent J that has been used by Girl and Boy Scouts for more than 30 years, we expanded to a remote but up-scale campground 'way back in the wilderness of Forever Florida, then added two campgrounds in between and most recently, a large area "up front" (near the highway) that comfortably holds up to twenty Scout troops for a big Camporee.

Variations on these basic campouts and safaris can be worked out with our staff.

Classified or Business ad?

Classified ads are for selling a tangible item. 2 photos of the same item can go in a LARGE classified ad. Two or more items can be listed in the same classified ad if it is text only (no photo) or if they are closely related and being sold together. (a pair of mules or horse w/ cart) Classified ads can not list business information. A web address may be listed in a classified ad ONLY IF more information about the item for sale is listed on the web site.

Business ads are for services, such as boarding, farrier or stud, and/or any ad that contains a business name or information.
