Does cribbing make a horse “high?”

A veterinarian that does not specialize in horses has told my daughter that cribbing in horses makes them “high”. I have done some research and have only found this to be a theory, not a fact. Is the above statement just a theory, or is it considered a fact in animal science?

Using the term “high” is a bit of a slang term. Cribbing or wind-sucking actually produces endorphins, which give the horse a good feeling, kind of like a “runner’s high” in humans. This feeling is purely natural and produced in the body. Many people confuse wood chewing with cribbing. Wood chewing is simply chewing on stalls, fences, trees, etc. The air sucked into the throat of the horse during cribbing is what causes the “high.” Cribbing in horses can become an addiction because horses feel good after doing it, kind of like obsessive-compulsive disorders in humans. The behavior is usually initiated by boredom or a diet low in fiber. Horses will find a means of entertaining themselves and once they realize that the endorphin release makes them feel good many horses will continue the habit even after the boredom or diet is altered.

Majesty is about 300 lbs underweight!

This Draft horse is in need of quality hay and feed to gain the weight he needs to be considered healthy. He has summer-itch that requires everyday care. If you are able to donate money for this horse's care, please call the Caloosa Humane Society at 863-675-0997. Or, you can stop by the shelter at 1200 Pratt Blvd. off of Cowboy Way in LaBelle, and donate in person. Thank you!

Jasmine's Dream

By Half Vast Connie

Jasmine was a 20 year old mare injured by the wrath of hurricane Charley. She healed nicely from all her many injuries only to die later from a blood clot. Her health had its reward for a horse sanctuary was established in her honor, Jasmine's Dream. I would call it "Monica's Dream" as the idea to rescue horses was hers to do but "dream" is what Monica seldom does anymore. She works two jobs solely to support these horses. She and her parents are slaves to this endeavor. The work and bills never end: vet, feed, hay, wormers farrier, etc.

Recently they applied for a grant. The application would be reviewed by the US Senate, so it was imperative to list some of their rescue success stories.

Max, a big Belgian is now with the Mounted Patrol in Atlanta, Ga.

A QH gelding went to a massage therapist who did daily massage until he became sound. He is now a lesson horse for horse-crazy kids.

A Warmblood, who after 2 years of rehabilitation once again showed as a Hunter Jumper, recently won first place at a big show.

Snow, the most unusual success of them all is a white pony that was found in his new owner's paddock wearing a horn on his head of purest gold. He has made adults and kids alike smile at his funny antics. He gives rides to kids all weekend and eats a million carrots.

The herd of unicorns in my life has enabled me to learn to believe. I believe there is magic in all the horses that cross Monica's path, some from the things they've achieved in the past and some from the things they will achieve. Please do not spend your entire life doing nothing. Go out into this world and make a difference in the most important lives, those of our children and that of our horses. When you meet the Great Spirit, you can say, "I was a friend to your horses." He will, with the wave of his hand, beckon you to enter Heaven's gate or perhaps he will say, "If you were friend to horse, then your Heaven was on earth."

Our horse sanctuaries (and there are many) need help. If you have time, volunteer on a regular basis. If not, donate wormer, gift certificates, cash, or pay for a farrier visit. Put these horses on your Christmas list! It will be, no doubt, the most rewarding gift you give. The feeling you will have in your heart will be a gift back to yourself!

Gold Rush: How Mr. Prospector Became Racing's

Billion-Dollar Sire

By Avalyn Hunter

Publication date: October 2007

ISBN: 978-1-58150-173-5

Retail price: $26.95 Hardcover

When I started reading "Gold Rush," I thought I was going to read an enjoyable story about one of thoroughbred racing's bigger stallion shed stars. Frankly, I had hoped for another Laura Hillenbrand's "Seabiscuit." I wanted a book that could eventually wind up in the hands of thousands of potential racing fans, promote the sport, and be a best seller for Ms. Hunter.

Instead, after the first half dozen or so short chapters, the book wound up as a reference book, highlighting the yearly crops of Mr. Prospector. One chapter is merely a list of females he sired, naming them and their progeny. The proofreader also missed a number of errors, both grammatical and content-wise. There are typographical errors and overuse of parenthesis. If Blood Horse still published their "Thoroughbred Series" books, this would have been a good addition to that series. However, even that series gave personal behind-the-common-knowledge details about the horses and owners. "Gold Rush" lacks the in-depth research of "Seabiscuit." Personally, I would like to know how Mr. Prospector got his name and who named him. Yes, his dam was Gold Digger, but his sire was Raise a Native, and I can see no acknowledgement towards his sire in this name.

On page 53, Ms. Hunter mentions a sire named "Double Jay." She neglects to mention that he sired a horse named Old Bob Bowers and that sire produced John Henry. Even many racing enthusiasts think John Henry's pedigree wasn't very good, but according to Hunter, Double Jay stood at Claiborne Farms for a number of years and sired 45 stakes winners.

An excellent point Ms. Hunter makes is the potential towards over-breeding of the current sires. She states, "...Fusaichi Pegasus has to date [as of July 11, 2007] been credited with siring 890 foals in his first five crops. ...That is more foals than Northern Dancer sired during his entire 23 year stud career and equal to the number of foals that Mr. Prospector sired in his first 18 crops." Obviously, time will tell whether these are wise decisions.

It would appear that American breeders are also too quick to dismiss a stud if his early crops do not instantly produce winners. Ms. Hunter points out that Forty Niner was sold to Japan before his foals had a chance to mature and prove themselves. Precocious two year olds who are pushed into competitive racing are burned out by age four. The book is very up-to-date, with photos and acknowledgement of 2007 Kentucky Derby winner, Street Sense, and 2007 Preakness winner, Curlin, both descendents of Mr. Prospector. The color photos are a nice touch. The "appendix" takes up nearly as many pages as the story contents, which is charts of Mr. Prospector's stakes winners, and tables of a number of his outstanding colts' get. Because many of his progeny are still racing and producing, the tables are an excellent reference resource up to July 11, 2007.

I also read Ms. Hunter's book, "The Kingmaker," which was an in-depth look at Northern Dancer. It also covered the Dancer's progeny. The Kingmaker was a more enjoyable read.

To Lynda and "Skip"

Skip

When I say Skip, I don't mean 'to my lou',

With this big boy that would never do.

He's big and beautiful, regal and proud.

You would notice him in the biggest crowd.

He has so much style and grace,

He would never take one step out of place.

When he walks on, you can see with each stride,

The he knows his purpose, and steps out with pride.

He is pure black and very shiny,

Just one look and you will color him mighty.

In all the years I rode with him,

He has never been out of line,

He knows what he is doin' and does it fine.

Since then, he and his owner have moved away,

I miss them and think of them 'most every day.

I wish I had all those trail rides back,

Although, memories are something I'll never lack.

Skip is getting older now; still, he has a lot to give.

He will always want to please you as long as he shall live.

There will never be another horse like Skip,

Tall and handsome and smart as a whip,

I'm so glad I know him now and got to ride him too,

For Skip is one of the finest animals I ever knew.

With my heart,
Cookiekmax

Horse tales is an area where original, unpublished works by local writers and artists will be featured. If you have a short story, poem, work of art or anything that you've created and are interested in seeing in print, please submit to Everything Equine. Everything Equine and local businesses provide this opportunity for children and adults alike to show their creative abilities and talents to the entire community. Horseback Safaris

Horseback Safaris - Standard one-hour, two-hour, or three-hour horseback safaris are available daily. Horseback Safaris can be arranged for riders with varying levels of experience. All guests should be at least 12 years of age; 10 years of age is an acceptable age with proven riding experience. Guests weighing more than 275 pounds will need to be assessed by our Equestrian Director before they are allowed to take a Horseback Safari. Call-in reservations are recommended in order to assure that we and our horses are ready for you.

A favorite with visitors is our two-night "Crescent J Cattle Drive Weekend Safari," which includes some training in Florida Cowhunter skills of ridin', ropin' and cow cuttin'. (Florida cattlemen weren't "cowboys" because hunting those wild Spanish-descent cattle in Florida's woods and swamps was a man's job, they said.) Choice of campground depends on weather, type of group and recommendation of the riding instructors.

Another favorite is similar, but shorter – an Overnight Trail Ride Safari combined with a next-day "Rawhide Roundup." More time is spent riding the wilderness trails of Forever Florida and learning about nature, less on cowpoke skills.

Corporate Co-workers, Schoolteachers, Professional Club, Flying Clubs, School Groups, Church Groups, Families, Friends, Scout troops or multi-troop Camporees – there are activities and a campground on Forever Florida or the Crescent J Ranch that are just right for a bonding experience. See the Facilities and Events page for more details.

From a small primitive one-troop Scout Camp on the Crescent J that has been used by Girl and Boy Scouts for more than 30 years, we expanded to a remote but up-scale campground 'way back in the wilderness of Forever Florida, then added two campgrounds in between and most recently, a large area "up front" (near the highway) that comfortably holds up to twenty Scout troops for a big Camporee.

Variations on these basic campouts and safaris can be worked out with our staff.

Where does Your Joint Supplement End Up?

Because of its large molecular size, the Chondroitin Sulfate found in most joint supplements is difficult for the body to absorb. More than 70% usually ends up in the manure! In addition, recent studies have shown that very little Glucosamine HCl — another ingredient commonly found in joint supplements — gets into the joint tissue. So, how effective is the joint supplement you're using?

Gluquestrian™ uses human-grade Glucosamine Sulphate 2KCl and Cardinal MSM. It has been proven that up to 98% of Glucosamine Sulphate is available to the joints within only 30 minutes! When used regularly, Gluquestrian™ is an extremely effective treatment for Navicular Syndrome, arthritis, spavin, laminitis, joint injuries and many other joint related problems. And Gluquestrian™ comes with a unique Results Based Guarantee, not just your usual money back guarantee that is only good for 30 days.

"May 2004 I was told by my farrier and vet that I needed to put my horse down and there were no other 'humane' options. My ... horse had foundered so badly that his coffin bone had rotated to 16°. Dee Matlock, of Singing Springs, told me ... that Gluquestrian was the best joint supplement on the market, and that if it wouldn't help nothing would. ... I tried it, and ... I saw results. It really worked! ... My horse is sound! I am riding him again! Now I'm adding the Total Mobility EQ for the contracted hoof." - Tammy Nute
